We are looking for an experienced and motivated Qualified Painter to join our aviation refurbishment facility.

The role involves working on high-quality refurbishment projects and requires someone who takes pride in their work, has a strong work ethic, and is confident working across different painting systems and applications.

- Ability to carry out complete restorations from preparation through to final finish.
- Experience working with different paint systems and structures.
- Strong, productive work ethic and the ability to work efficiently.
- High attention to detail and pride in workmanship.
- Eager to learn and develop new skills.

The role

You will be involved in the preparation, painting and restoration of aircraft components and refurbishment projects. This is a hands-on position suited to someone who enjoys quality workmanship and wants to work on varied projects rather than repetitive production-line painting.
